Lord of the Flies Island Map
Using abstraction to visually represent a story

You and your partner are going to create a map of the island. Your goal is to use abstraction, a computational thinking skill, to determine which locations and events are most important in visually telling the story of Lord of the Flies. You will choose which elements to include on your map. Your map must also include a quote from the novel that relates to one of the central themes.

Action: Your map must include at least five locations and at least five events, all of which must be labeled. Brainstorm what elements you want to include on your map below, including the page number from where you will find your evidence.

Locations

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

9. _____

10. _____

Events

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

9. _____

10. _____

Action: Your map must also include one quote from the novel that relates to one of the central themes. Select your quote (make sure it's not too long!) and copy it below, including what page it can be found on.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Use the rubric below to guide your work. This is how your map will be evaluated.

	Developing (1-3pts)	Proficient (4-7pts)	Advanced (8-10pts)	Points earned
Element selection	Most of the required components are included Some chosen elements are important to the story, but many important elements are missing Included quote does not relate to a central theme	All of the required components are included Most chosen elements are important to the story, and few important elements are missing Included quote somewhat relates to a central theme	All of the required components are included All chosen elements are important to the story, and very few or no important elements are missing Included quote strongly relates to a central theme
Accuracy and neatness	Map doesn't honor descriptions from the novel Element labels are missing, hard to read or misspelled	Map mostly honors descriptions from the novel No element labels are missing, but a few are misspelled or hard to read	Map strongly honors descriptions from the novel No element labels are missing or misspelled, and all are easy to read
Creativity and effort	The map looks rushed Little to no originality or creativity demonstrated	The map shows some evidence of effort and time Some originality and creativity demonstrated	The map shows significant evidence of effort and time Lots of originality and creativity demonstrated	